

“Valorous Valiant Victors”

Servicemen and women some think thou art,

Valorous valiant victors others think,

Thou know thy role and play thy vital part,

Thy love for our country shall never shrink,

With bullets flashing by nearly killing,

Thee never betray and always stay true

Thou ne'er waver and art always willing,

To represent red, white, and blue,

In World War, thou helped our country revive,

Liker serene waves, the flag always flutters proudly,

Thee art as tough as Sherman tanks thou drive,

In the heat of the war without shutter,

Heads helped high after an arduous was,

For it is thou we will always adore.

by Kendall Yerkes

“Valorous Valiant Victors”