“Your Silly Smile Was like the Sun”

You are my perfect guardian angel, always watching me like a hawk from above Even though the cancer tried to break our foundations, you continue to fight showing us what is strength and love Flawless and beautiful like a heart shaped diamond, your love, Grandma, will last and shine forever
You were the foundations of our family, keeping us together now and forever, we will forget you never

You are like water to me an essential I need, but you are like the water I have that slipped through my hand Grandma, you grew the best flower and now I am part of that garden too only wishing you were there to nurture me like my biggest fan My grandma was as sweet as a Hershey kiss that is filled with lots of love
After a terrible thunder storm you are in the rainbow from above

Your silly smile was like the sun; it always brightens up each day and turns it into a blue sky
Death has not defeated you as your strong spirit flies like a gentle butterfly.
