

There are so many charred memories that always cloud the scars of those who fought.

Former soldiers remember starving in the bitter cold that made them a statue.

There were ones who survived and the ones who were caught.
Though, the one thing that kindles them out of that is our way of honoring them, too.

Like our heroes in comic books, soldiers young and old fight or fought to keep us safe.

The urge for freedom and love was in their eyes that today we can still see.

Today, their names are in history books and on the road for us that they paved.

Still hearing the bombs and screams, surviving veterans have one tear that stains their cheek.

Like our American flag, our soldiers have a symbol of freedom.

In Honer Flight, every star has a meaning of respect.

In return for your help, thank you to all veterans helping America, our kingdom.

Veterans' Day allows us to ponder and reflect.

“Respect”

By: Contessa Norris